Management: MSc

Lang’s Master of Science in Management (MSc) program provides an enriching, professionally relevant, and flexible academic experience by including you as part of a collaborative research environment. Unlike programs that emphasize a general management area or a specific industry track, Lang’s MSc in Management emphasizes leadership development and a better understanding of evidence-based management.

Program

During your first semester, you will complete core courses while developing key project management skills. The second semester is devoted to enhancing your research skills, while learning about management consulting. The final semesters are dedicated to completing your independent major research project or thesis with your advisor(s).

The program offers a thesis-based Management Research field and two fields that are completed through a major research project with an advisor: Accounting and Innovation, Commercialization, and Entrepreneurship (ICE).

Study Options: Full-time or part-time

Admission Requirements

A four-year honours undergraduate degree (or equivalent) with a minimum average of 73%.

Applicants to the Accounting field must have completed the CPA Preparatory Courses. Please visit our website for more information.

Applicants to the Management Research or Accounting fields who do not hold a degree with a strong emphasis in either management or accounting may be asked to complete recommended undergraduate courses in order to comply with program standards.

Online and On-Campus Learning

This program blends learning environments for students, including multiple face-to-face seminars per term, and a supportive online learning environment. You will directly collaborate with faculty and classmates during in-class sessions held at the University of Guelph, and make independent progress with e-learning tools such as videos, readings, and online discussions.

Management: PhD
Organizational Leadership

The PhD in Management at the Gordon S. Lang School of Business and Economics offers students the unique opportunity to join an inter-departmental program that explores complex challenges in modern business management and scholarship. Lang doctoral students develop research with impact in one of three possible fields – Organizational Leadership, Services Management, or Marketing and Consumer Behaviour – and graduate as innovative and successful researchers and lecturers.

Program

The Organizational Leadership (OL) field of the PhD program gives students a balanced foundation in management theory to allow them to pursue research that helps organizations and employees thrive. Rooted in a sustainable and socially-responsible stakeholder mindset, our OL students delve into how to balance competing concerns and opportunities and how to create economic, social, and environmental value from a public or private organizational standpoint.

Timeline: After completing coursework and a qualifying exam, students devote the remainder of their time in the program to the completion and defence of a doctoral dissertation.

Study Options: Full-time only

Funding

PhD Management students receive funding from a mix of the following sources:
