

Master of Real Estate: MRE

Towards Smarter and Sustainable Real Estate

Lang's Master of Real Estate program will provide you with an enriching, professionally relevant, and flexible academic experience. By combining advanced level courses on innovative topics with exposure to a wide variety of practical issues, our graduates have the kind of solid foundation of theoretical and technical knowledge needed to identify and address the emerging challenges facing the large and fast-growing real estate industry.

uoguelph.ca/lang/masters-real-estate/

Program

The full-time 12-month course-based Master of Real Estate program is designed to appeal to early career real estate professionals who wish to improve their skills and expertise to enhance career prospects; and for people without prior training in real estate who wish to pursue a career in real estate. During your program, you will find yourself collaborating with peers and industry professionals in a diverse range of areas. Topics include:

- Real estate finance
- Market analysis
- Sustainable real estate
- Asset management
- Real estate development
- Emerging issues in real estate development and management

A capstone project brings together what you have learned from other courses and explores a topic of interest to you.

Structure of the Program

This full-time graduate program is delivered through a combination of online and in-person classes.

Full-time program length:
3 semesters or 1 year.

Part-time program length:
up to 6 semesters (24 months).

Admission Requirements

- Four-year undergraduate degree from a recognized university with minimum B- average
- Minimum of two-year work experience relevant to the real estate industry
- Two reference letters: one from an academic referee (e.g. a university instructor) and the other from a professional referee (e.g. work supervisor)
- If English is not your first language, you will be required to submit the results of a standardized language test. Please note that test scores must be valid for the start of the program.
- A GMAT is not required.

Application Deadlines:

International, January 15

Domestic applicants, April 30

Entry: Fall

ARE YOU INTERESTED IN:

- Being a leader in the real estate industry
- Theoretical study backed by practical experience and analysis
- Leading sustainable real estate development projects

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES:

- Property and asset management
- Real estate investing
- Market analyst
- Commercial development & leasing
- Broker

CONTACT INFORMATION

Speak to a member of the Lang Grad Programs office today.

1-888-622-2474

MRE_Admissions@uoguelph.ca